FEATURED RED HALF BOTTLE

Barolo, Damilano, "Lecinquevigne", 2013 - $58

What better way to start your journey through a wine list than with Barolo: Italy's "King of Wines"? Founded in 1890, the Damilano estate is now in its fourth generation and continues to produce some of the most powerful and compelling wines of the region. The "Lecinquevigne" name refers to the 5 famous vineyards from which their old-vine Nebbiolo grapes are grown: Bussia, Le Coste, Castellero, Ravera, and La Cavourrina.

FEATURED CHAMPAGNE

Vilmart & Cie, "Grand Cellier", Brut, NV - $191

What moves us most about Laurent Champs' wines is their ability to convey serenity. The "Grand Cellier" is a radiant expression of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir from the Rilly-la-Montagne 1er Cru in the Montagne de Reims. The subtle use of oak in his base wines impart faint notes of Madagascar vanilla, brioche, and baked apples. This non-vintage blend highlights a house-style, which embodies complexity and elegance. Drink it. It will make you happy.

FEATURED LANGHE WHITE

Ceretto, "Blangé", 2016 - $64

Ceretto's Blangé vineyard is solely planted to one of Piedmont's most storied white grapes: Arneis. Literally translating to "little rascal" for its difficulties in cultivating, Arneis has made a significant comeback since the 1970's. The Blangé vineyard name is derived from the French word "boulangier", or baker, as this was the site where Napoleon's bakers set up camp, wafting the aromas of freshly baked bread to the locals as his armies invaded the region. With notes of yellow pear, Meyer lemon, and almond, this crisp white classically pairs with many of northern Italy's famous alpine dishes.

Unless you have vacationed along the Cinque Terra, Vermentino is probably unknown. To those that have been to Liguria, life without the varietal doesn't seem, well, as good. With the vineyards close enough to see the sea, expect ocean brine to be an identifiable flavor.

FEATURED CAMPANIA WHITE

Campi Flegrei, Cantine Farro, 2017 - $46

Michele Farro's wine philosophy is based on tradition and simplicity. Falanghina grown on this very special soil on the edge of the many small, dormant and now wood and vine-covered volcanoes in the Campi Flegrei region displays freshness, elegance, and tropical fruit notes. His family has been making wines there for more than 80 years bottling native varieties which he views as part of his family's precious heritage.

FEATURED SAUVIGNON BLANC

Soliste, "Lune et Soleil", Lake County, 2014 - $71

Of the fruit-driven wines of Lake County, some of the country's finest Sauvignon is crafted by Burgundy native Claude Koeberle. Lifted by the laurels of his late friend Didier Dagueneau, Koeberle stylizes his wine to pay homage to the intense and terroir-driven whites of the Loire Valley. Taking its passion one step further, the winery dispersed a tractor-trailer worth of broken oyster shells in its vineyards for a dose of extra maritime minerality.

Martinelli, "Belle Vigne", Sonoma Coast, 2014 -
$104

Italian winemaker Guiseppe Martinelli and Luisa Vellutini moved from their Tuscan home in 1887 to ambitiously pioneer a new winery in California. 100 years later, Martinelli Winery is still family-owned and producing some of the top wines in Sonoma. Barrel-fermented and rested in new French oak, "Belle Vigne" shows finesse with notes of poached pear, green apple, toast, and butterscotch.

FEATURED DOLCETTO

Dogliani, Luigi Einaudi, 2016 - $66

Before Luigi Einaudi became the first democratically elected president of Italy, he was a modest farmer and winemaker. Today, Matteo Sardagna continues to grow the estate, embodying his great-grandfathers' political philosophy in the vineyards: innovation with respect for tradition. The relatively overlooked commune of Dogliani is where both the Einaudi family and a "little sweet" grape call home. While its name can be misleading because Dolcetto is decidedly dry, this wine shines with dark, rich fruit and a soft, earthy finish. We recommend drinking it like the Piedmontese would: as an opening act with antipasti while waiting for a fine Barolo to breathe (see p. 20-21), or simply passed around the table during casual everyday family meals.

FEATURED BAROLO

G.D. Vajra, "Albe", 2014 - $116

In Barolo the sun stays a little bit longer in the sky, hovering all day, keeping the grapes and their leaves at full attention. Its path from East to West seems to just take longer, an expression known regionally as "Albe", where the wine takes its name. It is the magic of Barolo, the unexplainable, that takes the thinned skinned Nebbiolo into a complex, tannic, food driven wine that has no rival in terms of originality.

FEATURED BAROLO RISERVA

Sergio Giudice, 1990 - $271

Step into the foggy, north-westernmost region of Italy and you will find some of the world's most hauntingly delicious reds. A longtime Sommelier favorite, Barolo Riserva is only made in the very best vintages and must be aged for more than five years before it is released. Sergio Giudice, a small producer in the commune of Serralunga d'Alba, is a firm traditionalist in the vineyards and in the cellar, preserving the grapes' natural expression.

FEATURED BARBARESCO

Moccagatta, 2014 - $108

Moccagatta begins its story back in the 1850s when Giovanni Minuto purchased some of the greatest hillside vineyards in the majestic village of Barbaresco. After recognizing the uniquely perfumed qualities of the grapes grown here, Giovanni's son, Luigi, produced the family's first vintage in 1913. The estate continues to blend traditional and modern wine-making concepts accomplishing a powerfully, rich expression of Nebbiolo yet refined by subtle flavors of black cherry, dried violet, and white truffle.

FEATURED GAJA HALF BOTTLE

Barbaresco, Gaja, 2010 (375ml) - $253

Angelo Gaja is the man credited for bringing the small commune of Barbaresco out of obscurity. His influence has changed the way the world views Italian wine to this day. A master of Nebbiolo--the austere, tannic grape once considered only quaffable after decades of bottle age, Angelo saw its potential as a world class wine. Despite pushback from his peers, he employed new (and what most considered outlandish) practices both in the vineyard and the winery to promote freshness and elegance in his wine. The story of Gaja is a truly fascinating one, but is best told through a glass of his stunning Barbaresco...(hint, hint)

FEATURED CARMIGNANO

Bacchereto, "Terre a Mano", 2012 - $128

Carmignano is one of the smallest and oldest wine regions in all of Italy. Though its history of winemaking dates back to the Roman era, it was officially recognized by Grand Duke of Tuscany, Cosimo III de' Medici for producing the highest quality wine among all of the surrounding regions. In the 18th century, vine cuttings from Chateau Lafite-Rothschild were planted and the practice of blending Cabernet Sauvignon with Sangiovese set this tiny commune apart long before the "Super Tuscan" era of the 1970's. Bacchereto's "Terra a Mano" bottling expertly showcases the elegance and the power of classic Carmignano.

FEATURED "SUPER TUSCAN"

Tenuta di Arceno, "Arcanum", 2006 - $100

The Super Tuscan movement began in the early 1970s and quickly spread like wildfire. As the "unofficial" star of the region, these wines were made famous by incorporating non-native grapes including Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Cabernet Franc. Tenuta di Arceno's top bottling "Arcanum", masterfully blends these newly Tuscan-grown varietals into a powerful yet elegant style that holds its own against some of the best in Napa and Bordeaux.

FEATURED VENETO RED

Amarone della Valpolicella Classico,
La Giaretta, 2015 - $96

From the heart of the Valpolicella region between Lake Garda and the Alps, La Giaretta vineyards are studded with old vines. The use of new French Oak barrels gives an already rich and opulent wine, layers of spice, mocha, and dark chocolate. In order to achieve the concentration of flavors, grapes are harvested late in October and dried roughly 120 days for concentration of flavor and sugar content. The resulting wine is full of dried cherries and ripe red fruits.

Foradori, Teroldego, "Morei", 2015 - $116

You may describe the wines of Elisabetta Foradori by stating: the grapes do not fall far from the vine or the hands that cultivated it. The winery is located on the foothills of the Dolomites where vineyards thrive in a fresh Alpine climate. Teroldego, an indigenous grape variety in the region, is farmed bio-dynamic/organic. Vinification in Spanish clay amphorae gives the wine balance. Full-bodied. Powerful. Generous. Sincere.

At 2,500 feet up Mt. Etna, one of the world's largest and most active super volcanoes, lies the extraordinary vineyards of Passorosso. FEATURED PINOT NOIR

George, "Hansen", R.R.V., 2015 - $104

Sell your house. Quit your job. Go make wine...

Three decisions George Levkoff made after one taste of Williams-Selyem Pinot Noir. It took four years of hard work and dedication at this acclaimed estate to turn his dream of winemaking into reality. George single-handedly produces Pinot Noir from five farmers in the Russian River Valley. This is extremely small production, bordering on "cult" status. Drink it. Now. It will make you happy.

FEATURED GRENACHE

Tuck Beckstoffer, “Melée”,
California, 2014 - $92

Raised in his fathers’ vineyards and schooled in local cellars, Tuck Beckstoffer is a new-world gladiator: championing Napa Valley in all her glory. Stunningly complex blends are crafted at his recently acquired St. Helena estate, from prized fruit (former Sine Qua Non vines) and by sage consultants Philippe Melka and Michel Roland. This Grenache is textural, balanced by lean and mean Syrah, offering a wine of both poise and presence - expect a mouthful of baked fruits, cured meats, and floral spices.

FEATURED SAUTERNES

"Poggio" d'Yquem, 2000 - $58 / $696 (750ml)

Which wine brings you the most joy? Not the wine that is most popular, complex or even the most profound - but the one that makes your palate truly happy? What else could you say but Sauternes.

Nowhere else in the world can compete with these Sauvignon Blanc & Semillon-based stickies. Yes, its sweet but just as complex with layers of exotic fruit and honey that would make any foie gras blush!

FEATURED BAROLO MAGNUM

G.D. Vajra, "Bricco delle Viole", 2012 $397 (1.5L)

An expression in finesse and elegance, Bricco delle Viole (Hill of Violets) was planted in 1949 to Nebbiolo. During Spring, the vineyards are filled with tiny violets displaying its exceptional exposure to the sun. Limited nutrient content and lack of heat retention, slowly ripens the grapes (Two weeks later than other areas in Barolo!) creating a unique and complex wine.
